Message from the Chairman

As we step into the 35th year of BIRDS, it is a pleasure for me to present an overview of all the activities, progress and achievements made under the various programs during the last year that is 34th year.

Formed community, unions, self help groups, user groups and executive committees in Bagalkot, Kalaburagi, Belagavi Districts with Hungund as the hub, under the Watershed Development Project, under the Agriculture Department, and strengthened the groups by providing training.

The efforts of our organization and our functionaries in other activities like providing intervention for children between 0-8 of age who face the problem of slow physical growth, teaching sign language for children with hearing and speech impairment, forming Caretakers Forum offering 24x7 service, providing health insurance, strengthening the economical capabilities of the share holders of Animal Husbandry Farmers Producers Companies, organizing rural fairs, Livelihood and Entrepreneurship Program Management (LEDP), Bee Farming training program are commendable. Financial help from various government departments, generous contributions from donor agencies and individual donors, contribution and support of social clubs of Bagalkot including Lions Club, Rotary Club, Innerwheel Club, Bhagini Samaja, are immense and worth thankful.

The cooperation and support extended by the Agriculture Department, especially the Senior Citizens Welfare Department, Bagalkot, EXILO, National Trust, Carers World Wide, DNA and Vani Okkuta, have been helpful for the beneficiaries.

Forming of the Taluk and District level Caretakers Forums and special programs are appreciable. Overall the this year's activities have been successful. I thank all from the bottom of my heart.

(X) Livelihood and Entrepreneurship Development Program (LEDP)

A five-day Apiculture training program was conducted by the Bijapur Integrated Rural Development Society (BIRDS), Hungund, in association with the National Agricultural and Rural Development Bank (NABARD), Bengaluru, for 30 women SHG group members 1st batch, under the Livelihood and Entrepreneurship Development Program (LEDP). The program was held at BIRDS, Hungund. Chairman Prof. C.G. Hawaldar inaugurated the bee box symbolically. In his address, he observed that bee farming should grow as an industry, as it helps in conserving bees, its health, increased crop production, provide health benefits to human beings, gives income generating opportunity and also helps in increasing the income without much investment.

Mahantesh Agasimuddin, Director, BIRDS, in his address shared his experience of availing a three-months duration bee farming training about 42 years ago, at Bhagamandala in Kodagu District. He explained the discipline, time sense, protection and other characters of bees. Resource Person Shivayogi Hiremath gave the training.

Sharanamma Jadimath rendered an invocation and PraveenKumar, CEO, BIRDS gave a vote thanks.

Ashwini skillfully compered the program. Fourty Five women from 10 SHGs took part in the five-day duration training camp.

The 2nd batch of the 5-day duration 'Bee Farming' training program under the Livelihood and Entrepreneurship Development (LEDP) was held at BIRDS, Hungund. Smt. Vijayalakshmi Tatrani, Vice-President, BIRDS inaugurated the Bee Box. In her address, she observed that bee farming can be a permanent source of income for farmers, and also honey production is very essential for good health of human beings. It also increases the agricultural crop production, and help in generating income without much investment. If a person produces 12 kilos of honey from one box, he can sell it at a price of Rs. 1,000 per kilo of honey, which means it will bring him an income of Rs. 12,000 pa.

In his introductory speech, BIRDS Secretary Mahantesh Agasimuddin explained about the NABARD LEDP Bee Farming training guidelines. He also shared his own experience of participating in a bee farming training program years ago, and also shared his knowledge of the disciplined activities of bees. Resource persons M.L. Arkasali, Sri Jagadeeshwara Balikayi, Senior Apiculture Expert (Retd), Insect Science Division, Agriculture University, Dharwad, Apiculturist from Dharwad H.G. Madar, advised the participants to utilize the benefit of the training program that is being given by expert resource person Bannetti.
