8. How did you get to know about the scheme?

I came to know about the ISDS scheme through the previous batch students who got benefited and are now in job with good salary and skilled certificate.

9. Describe your journey in brief:

My journey is to be in nut shell I started from nothing. When I stepped in to the training center in Thendral Movement I was a novitiate and an aspirant to keenly observe and touch everything and learn attentively in the theory class and practical classes. My ethics in job & other places was so enhanced by the soft skills.

10. One learning experience that changed you:

My learning in SMO was to learn to operate the machinery and keep the work place and the stitching garments in neat and tidy way. I was a shabby presenter in my routine but when i learned about the garment production I am the excelling one in every possible way in the factory all the more.

11. One thing you take back with you from the scheme:

The sense of time and regularity in every way, be it for the job or training one needs to keep up the spirit of time. Practice makes it perfect.

12. Your message to the candidates joining in future:

Nobody is born skilled but we could eagerly acquire skills by proper and regular and timely practice daily. So the aspirants could even make it if you are regular and timely observer.

13. Any recommendations you would like to give:

I have a few more that the women friendly atmosphere in the syllabus and the dress code.

14. One word/phrase to define ISDS as an initiative:

ISDS is a prolife scheme – productive one for the public in India.
